Why do bees have sticky hair?

They use honeycombs.

Covid continues to hit Ngatimoti, with some families still away this week. Thank you for keeping us informed about who is sick and who is home isolating. Please remember that we are able to provide home learning for your children if they are well enough to do it. The government announcement this week shows few changes for us at Ngatimoti School. The whole of NZ continues to be in Red level, however vaccine passes are no longer mandatory. What remains the same for schools is:

- Mandatory mask wearing for all Room 4 and 5 students when inside or on the bus, and for all adults on school grounds. (We do have some students with mask exemptions.)
- Physical distancing of 1 metre when inside should be observed where practicable.
- Playgrounds and equipment may be used, and hand washing is strongly encouraged after each break.
- Exercising and singing can be inside if in a well-ventilated space, or outside if at all possible.
- Minimise attendance on-site for non-essential visitors and services, particularly if indoors. Those on-site should sign in, as is normal practice.
- Anybody who is sick needs to stay home. Anybody who has a household contact who has tested positive for Covid needs to stay home for 7 days.

Thank you to Kirsten and Jacqui

Kirsten and Jacqui have decided not to return to our school in their roles as Teacher Aides. They have both been hugely valuable members of our team, have shared a wide range of skills with us and will be missed. A Teacher Aide at our school needs to be flexible, able to pivot at the whim of a class teacher, be caring and astute, ready to help a student in a myriad of ways, able to follow instructions and also think on their feet. Kirsten and Jacqui did an excellent job in their time with us and we wish them both all our very best wishes with their future endeavours.

Thank you so much to Pete's Grandad who has made us this fantastic wooden bridge construction set! Pete and William are pictured, enjoying putting it all together and learning about the strength of an arch.*

Happy Birthday to Tara who celebrates her 7th Birthday this weekend! Glenn will celebrate his umpteenth birthday on Monday and we wish you both lots of fun on your special days from all of us here at school ☺

Yesterday's Rippa Rugby Tournament was postponed so we held our own. It was a close match and lots of fun! Thanks to Anita from Sport Tasman for the independent refereeing! We will let you know when a new date is set for the Motueka competition.

Reading Together Next Wednesday 13 April, Room 1 is having a class tea party and we would love all parents of Room 1 students to come along so we can run the first of three Reading Together sessions. Your children (and their siblings) will be fed and looked after in the Indigo Room. We will start at 5.30pm and finish around 6.45pm. You should have all received a separate notice about this but please ask at the office if you need another copy to rsvp for catering purposes. The second and third sessions will be held next term on 12 and 19 May and we encourage parents to attend all sessions.
